

CANNOT LIVE ON LITTLE SALARY

Government Too Niggardly in the Matter of Money Paid to People in Consular Service.

ANTUNG CONSUL RESIGNS

REFUSES TO DRAW UPON PRIVATE INCOME.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Opposition in congress to an improved consular service with permanent tenure of office has caused the loss to the consular service of one of its most efficient and experienced officers by the resignation announced with regret by the department of state today of James W. Davidson, consul to Antung, Manchuria, who after a service of nine years retired because of his inability to longer draw on his private income to maintain the consulate.

Pay Is Too Small.

In his letter of resignation, Mr. Davidson says "the salary of my post as consul to Antung is insufficient, even with the increase which the new consular bill now pending in congress provides, to maintain any consul in the Orient with becoming dignity and efficiency in view of the necessity of competing with the consulates of other powers which, owing to the importance of his great and growing field of commercial and political activity, have large sums expended upon them by their respective governments."

Mr. Davidson adds that the salary at each of the consulates he has served has been too small to conduct in a satisfactory way the duties of his office as held and had he not possessed some private income obtained from literary work it would have been impossible for him to have continued in service this long. He concludes:

Regrets Resignation.

"My relations with the department of state have been so pleasant and I have found consular work so interesting that I take this step with regret. I have postponed this action for some time feeling that congress would soon recognize the necessity of a reorganization of the service with salaries commensurate to a degree to the importance of the position and the work required."

Had it been possible to retain Mr. Davidson by transfer to a more lucrative post the department would have done so, but the offers he has had are so far in excess of what he would receive with consular service that the department has been forced to accept his resignation.

Mr. Davidson entered the service as consular agent at Tamsen in 1896, and he served successively as consular agent at Shanghai, Nankin and Antung.

ANARCHISTS TRY TO KILL ADMIRAL

Commander of the Naval Forces at Sebastopol Shot Four Times
by a Woman.

LATTER QUICKLY KILLED

MANY OFFICIALS MARKED FOR SLAUGHTER.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The admiral has received a report from the surgeon in charge of Vice Admiral Chouknin, who was shot by a woman in his office in Sebastopol yesterday, to the effect that his wounds are not dangerous. Rear Admiral Grigorovitch has assumed command of the Black sea fleet in succession to Chouknin.

According to the morning papers and subsequent dispatches from Sebastopol confirming the press accounts, the attending surgeons are confident that Chouknin will recover. The most serious wound is in his breast, from which the bullet has not been extracted. The other wounds are in the right shoulder and both legs. His assailant, who was shot and killed by an adjutant who rushed to the admiral's assistance, is believed, like the murderers of Lieutenant General Sakharoff, the former war minister, and the assassin of General Shuvaloff, prefect of police of Moscow, to have been an emissary of the St. Petersburg group of terrorists. The woman has not been identified, but it is known that she arrived at Sebastopol Feb. 7 and registered at a hotel under the name of Krupnitskai. She was well dressed, was quiet in her manner and attracted no attention.

Details of the Shooting.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the woman appeared at the official residence of Admiral Chouknin and sent in her card, saying she was a daughter of a rear admiral who was an old acquaintance of Chouknin at St. Petersburg, and requested an interview. Upon entering the admiral's office she drew a rapid-fire pistol and fired four shots at Chouknin with deliberate aim, each bullet reaching the mark. She then turned to flee, but was killed by the adjutant, who exhibited remarkable nerve and continued to issue orders even while being carried to bed and during the examination by the surgeons. Later he received personal friends who came to sympathize with him.

The news of the attempt on Chouknin's life created great excitement among the sailors at Sebastopol, a large proportion of whom are sullen and on the verge of mutiny. The anarchists at Sebastopol attempted to organize a demonstration, but were not successful.

Crime Is Political.

The crime beyond doubt is political.

Local. Chouknin had long been a marked man on account of his activity as commander of the Black sea fleet in repressing disorders. When the sentences imposed upon the sailors for participation in the Odessa mutiny were before him for review, formal notice was served on Chouknin to the effect that if he approved the death sentences he would share the same fate. Intimations that the terrorists were merely waiting for a favorable opportunity to kill him have reached the admiral several times since. The hand of the terrorist is now raised against all classes of officials, military and civil, which are called upon the curb the revolutionary movement. Various manifestations have taken place in the last three months and a number of officials have been killed on account of their prominence in subduing the agrarian uprisings.

Army Victims.

The army has contributed General Griaznov, formerly chief of staff of the viceroy of the Caucasus, who was killed by a bomb at Tiflis, Jan. 29 last; Colonel Lesvosky, formerly commander of the Eighty-seventh military division, who was murdered recently, and many subordinate officers, and among the governors whose lives have been attempted or who have been killed are General Boardman, former governor of the Ufa province, who was killed by the revolutionists in December last; M. Klingenberg, governor of Moghilev, who was shot by a woman in November last, and General Kourloff, governor of Minsk, whose life was attempted by the throwing of a bomb January last, as he was leaving a church.

The shadow of terror hangs over those who are upon the list of "enemies of liberty," high on which are the names of Minister Durnovo, Vice Admiral Dubassoff, governor general of Moscow, and General Sollogub, governor general of the Baltic provinces.

Every precaution has been taken to protect them, but history has shown that the ingenuity of terrorism is sure to be successful sooner or later.

Mme. Doubassoff, who is a sister of M. Siplaguine, the former minister of the interior who was assassinated in 1902, is so alarmed for the admiral's safety that she is imploring him not to return to Moscow. It is noticeable that a large proportion of the recent terrorist sentences have been executed by women, who are among the most devoted members of the fighting organization. The number of officers of the police who have been slain on account of their "pernicious activity," is mounting so rapidly that the reports of such crimes hardly occasion comment. Several cases occurred recently.

Guarded by Troops.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 10.—The restaurant on the Schlusselfeld embankment, which was the scene of last night's bomb explosion, was quiet today. The shattered building was surrounded by a large crowd of angry workmen, who were kept in bounds by police and troops. The whole of the embankment was patrolled by guards of infantry and guards were stationed at the gates of every factory. Only two of these establishments were working. Another wounded man died today and several others are in a precarious condition.

ISLANDS YET UNEXPLORED

Supposed to Be Lying Between
Parry Islands and Wrangel
Land, off Siberian Coast.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Upon the theory that there exists in the Arctic regions an enormous archipelago as yet unexplored, lying between the Parry Islands and Wrangel Land, off the Siberian coast, Captain Mikkelson, commander of the Anglo-American polar expedition, will undertake what is said to be an entirely novel campaign in the history of Arctic expeditions. Although a subject of Denmark, Captain Mikkelson, upon discovering the new continent, intends to plant there the American flag and claim it as a possession of the United States. He has no intention of trying to reach the north pole, an undertaking which he believes to be both improbable and useless of attainment. Captain Mikkelson today, accompanied by the Danish minister and Henry Edward Rood of New York City, called upon the president and explained to him the objects and purposes of the expedition. President Roosevelt expressed his hearty approval of the enterprise. It was explained that the intention of Captain Mikkelson is to make scientific investigations, which probably will result in new and important additions to present knowledge of geology, meteorology, hydrography and possibly ethnology, astronomy and physics. Captain Mikkelson will have as his companions on the expedition, which it is proposed shall start from San Francisco in May of the present year, Ernest Leflingwell of the University of Chicago, who will have charge of all of the scientific work, and Einar Ditlevsen, of Copenhagen, who is both a zoologist and an artist. In its entirety the expedition goes out under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society and an American magazine.

LAWYER CONVICTED OF FORGING A DEED

New York, Feb. 10.—Benjamin E. Valentine, a wealthy Brooklyn lawyer, was convicted by a jury in Mineola, L. I., today of uttering a forged deed conveying property from his wife to his mother. The property is located in Cedarhurst, L. I., and in California. When Valentine's wife died a few years ago she bequeathed a life interest in her property to his mother and provided that upon the death of the mother it should revert to the children of the testatrix, the wife. Two years after his wife's death Valentine filed a deed conveying the property to his mother, which was proved by him to be forged. He was released on bail.

SENATORS ARE NOT IN ACCORD

Meeting of the Committee on Interstate Commerce to Discuss Railroad Rate Bills.

HOUSE MEASURE OPPOSED

REPUBLICAN WRESTLING WITH THE MATTER.

Washington, Feb. 10.—With all sorts of compromises rumored, the senate committee on interstate commerce today resumed consideration of railroad rate bills. The rupture in the committee yesterday was smoothed over, temporarily at least. Senator Clapp, however, was not present today.

Certain opponents of the house bill have suggested an amendment which provides that courts may determine the lawfulness of a rate fixed by the commission which would amount to a test case and have a bearing on all subsequent orders of the commission. In effect this would mean that after the constitutionality of the powers given by the highest court nothing would stand in the way of execution of further orders issued by the commission in accordance with this construction. The railroads, of course, would have the right of any litigant to contest orders which they believed to be unjust, but this would not obstruct the continuance of the orders on any ground except their lawfulness. Courts would review the reasonableness of rates in the manner permitted by the house bill. This proposed amendment Senator Aldrich is said to favor. It is a compromise only in that it provides for the determination of the constitutionality of the bill before its provisions are enforced. It is believed generally that if adopted it would result in the greatest legal contest in the history of the courts.

REPUBLICAN CONFERENCE.

Effort Being Made to Patch Up a Railroad Rate Bill.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Republican members of the committee, with the exception of Senators Dilliver and Chapp, who are committed to the house bill, today held an extended conference following the meeting of the committee. They endeavored to draft an amendment providing for the review of orders of the interstate commerce commission which would be likely to receive the favorable consideration of the opponents of a feature of that character. When the committee meets on Monday these members expect to offer an amendment in terms similar to the provisions of the Esch-Townsend bill as it passed the house. They ex-
